

FALLS MAN WITH LEAD

"Bill" Jones, Who Tried to Kill
Guiteau, Shoots John A. Mc-
Pherson in Washington.

SELF-DEFENSE IS CLAIMED WIFE OF THE SLAYER CANNOT BE FOUND BY POLICE.

Washington, Oct. 11.—Noted for having attempted to avenge the death of President Garfield by shooting at Guiteau, the assassin, William Jones, locally known as "Bill" Jones, a farmer, tonight shot and killed John A. McPherson, of Detroit, at Bales farm, near Brookland, on the outskirts of this city.

The weapon used was a shotgun, and McPherson's breast was riddled with bullets. An unloaded rifle was found lying beside the body. The shotgun was found on the porch of Jones' house.

Jones was arrested shortly after the killing and brought to this city and lodged in jail.

Mrs. Jones, who is said to have been an eyewitness to the killing, has not been found. Jones admitted to Coroner Hewitt that he shot McPherson, but declares that he acted in self-defense. The police have learned, it is said, that the two men had quarreled over the possession of a horse.

McPherson, who was 22 years old, had been working on Jones' farm since he was discharged from the United States marine corps on June 24 last.

Guiteau Dodged Bullet.

Several days following upon President Garfield's death, Guiteau was taken to court for a preliminary hearing, and it was while he was being returned to jail under charge of District Marshal Corahill that Jones attempted to shoot him. Jones was riding a spirited horse, and when he suddenly spurred his horse, started into the crowd, drew a revolver and fired into the prison van. Guiteau, who was sitting near the door, caught a glimpse of Jones as he drew the weapon and dodged. The bullet sped over his head and lodged in the side of the wagon. Jones, believing he had killed Guiteau, dug the spurs into his horse's side and escaped arrest at that time. He was captured shortly afterward near Fredericksburg, Va. Jones was tried and acquitted. Those who remember him at that time describe him as a dare-devil sort of man and constantly doing things that were considered very public notice. Jones in later years has been regarded by his neighbors as a good, law-abiding citizen, and the police records fail to disclose anything against him.

Mrs. Jones, the wife of the confessed slayer of McPherson, who was arrested late tonight at a neighboring farmhouse, where they had fled after the tragedy, Mrs. Jones is about 25 years old. The women are being detained as witnesses.

ing will bring the negotiations to a successful close, that it is predicted that a statement to that effect will be introduced in parliament. The Serbian government, moreover for its autumn session, during the course of the afternoon or evening. The king apparently shares this view, as he has arranged to leave London for several days on Tuesday.

Friendly Exchanges.

The visits of the Italian and German ambassadors to the foreign office on Saturday and the friendly exchanges between their governments and Great Britain, according to officials who were interviewed today, have helped to smooth the path for those who are undertaking the negotiations. Not the slightest indication, however, has been given as to how the divergent views had by the respective governments of the Berlin treaty are to be reconciled. More favorable news from the Balkans, including the reported action of the Serbian national assembly in voting against war, has further strengthened the belief that there will be no eruption of the Greek government's reply to the British pronouncement that until a legal status has been restored in the island of Crete, Great Britain cannot hold out hope that the Cretan aspirations will be granted, points out the difficulty of the position of the administration at Athens, which in no way prompted the Cretans to declare union with Greece. The Greek government expresses its willingness that the powers should settle the question of union between Crete and Greece, but at the same time it declares that there is no means within its power of forcing the Cretans to restore the legal status.

The Greeks, the reply states, will continue to act with moderation, although it cannot understand why the powers cannot consider the Cretan affair at the same time it takes the Bulgarian and Austrian questions under advisement.

MERELY MAKING TIME.

St. Petersburg Awaiting Outcome of London Conference.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 11.—The center of interest in the near-eastern crisis has been transferred to London and the Russian foreign office is marking time in its negotiations with other powers concerning the convocation of a congress until the outcome of the conference between M. Iswolsky, Sir Edward Grey and King Edward are known. The cordial welcome extended to the Russian foreign minister in England and the expressed wish of interested parties to the conference to find a pacific and acceptable solution of the Balkan problems, are regarded in the highest ministerial circles as assuring an ultimate agreement between Great Britain and Russia on the question of the congress of the powers, although no definite progress has been officially reported here, the scope of the proposed congress and as to whether the call shall be issued by one or several powers being still in abeyance.

Letter Unanswered.

Emperor Nicholas has decided to leave the letter of Emperor Francis Joseph unanswered until M. Iswolsky returns to St. Petersburg. Count Berchtold, the Austrian ambassador, was closeted with M. Tcharnykoff, the acting foreign minister, the entire afternoon. At the close of the interview he reiterated the statement that Austria would refuse to participate in a congress unless the Bosnia question was excluded from the program. This attitude was confirmed later by Prince Von Fuensteinberg, counselor to the emperor, who declared that only Austria and Turkey were interested in the annexation of Bosnia, the powers having no ground for interference.

Recognition of Bulgaria.

The question of the recognition of Bulgarian independence has for the time being dropped out of sight, but Russia has expressed the opinion that she will support her pretensions before the congress. Russia, however, will take no action with regard to the recognition of the Austrian proposals unless the plans for the holding of the international conference fall through.

Foreign office has received from a score of cities in Turkey telegrams protesting against the Austro-Hungarian action, which has been seen as a move to reach conciliatory to the interests of all and without danger of humiliating Bulgaria, and suggests the application of rules ratified in 1888 neutralizing the Suez canal and placing it under a joint committee.

"New, sincere and less crafty arrangements," says the Temps, "seem to us to be desirable as a guarantee for the future."

Turkey Kept Posted.

Paris, Oct. 11.—It is understood in connection with M. Iswolsky's negotiations with the British foreign office that Great Britain is keeping Turkey closely advised in order to secure the porte's assent to every step.

Conference Certain.

Constantinople, Oct. 11.—The porte has received replies from Great Britain, France, Italy and Germany, all favorable to the assembling of a European conference, and it is expected that Germany also will acquiesce in this.

Cretan Assembly.

Canea, Oct. 11.—The Cretan assembly will hold an extraordinary session tomorrow. The official program says that the president of the assembly will open the session in the name of the king of Greece. All the military officials and consuls have been invited to attend. Resolutions have been adopted by the municipalities declaring union with Greece. Unfavorable reports which have been published here of Greece's attitude with regard to union have caused a feeling of depression among the people, who have been advised by the officials not to hold any more armed demonstrations, as the commanders of the international troops very strongly disapprove of this.

Preparing to Sail.

London, Oct. 11.—A dispatch from Gibraltar to the Daily Mail says that the British Atlantic fleet of six battle ships is taking on stores preparatory to sailing for the east.

Bitter Against Austria.

Jerusalem, Oct. 11.—A public meeting was held here today in protest against the declaration of Bulgarian independence and annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina by Austria. Vehement anti-Austrian speeches were made and resolutions condemning these movements were adopted and forwarded to the Young Turk party.

Missing Prince Located.

Constantinople, Oct. 11.—Prince Sabah Eddine, chief of the Young Turk party, concerning whom there has been some anxiety because of his mysterious disappearance, is now at Philippopolis. He will go to Sofia tomorrow.

Insult to Austria.

Cettigne, Montenegro, Oct. 11.—During a demonstration in the streets today a band of rioters tore down the coat of arms from the Austrian consulate.

self, assisted us to the roof, down through the skylight and to the street below. While the crowd cheered us and shook our hands. Neither Post nor myself were seriously hurt. I had cramps of the body, but otherwise I am all right.

Rations for Three Days.

H. H. Arnold, accompanied by H. J. Hunt, ascended a third American balloon, the "St. Louis."

All the competitors in the race are provided with rations for three days. This is the third international balloon cup race for the James Gordon-Bennett trophy.

The first race was held at Paris in 1906, and was won by a new management of the club of the United States cavalry, by a flight of 412 miles. The second contest was held under the auspices of the Aero club of America at St. Louis in October, 1907. It was won by the German balloon "Pommern," which flew from St. Louis Park, N. J., having covered 374 miles in an airline. It was piloted by Oscar Eberhardt.

The James Gordon-Bennett trophy is valued at $2,000, and the conditions call for the longest single flight, measured on an airline. The cup must be defended by the winner at the international contest held each year, and it must be won three times in succession before passing to a permanent holder.

Sailed Toward Russia.

All the balloons today took an exactly similar direction, which would lead, if the same course were followed, into southeastern Russia, overland; but many of the competitors, including McCoy, have taken water anchors, in the event that the wind veers and carries them toward the sea.

The Americans are hopeful and are determined to use their utmost endeavor to win the race. The first balloon to start, pointed out that the European aeroplans possess the most extensive apparatus. He fully expects to stay up at least forty-eight hours.

The three best in the St. Louis race are all on the German side. The pilots of the "Berlin" Captain Von Abercron again has charge of the "Duesseldorf," while Lehmann ascended in a balloon which bore no name.

Among the other contestants is Celestino Usual, representing Italy, who won the Queen Margherita cup for a flight over the Alps.

REXBURG, IDA., NOTES.

(Special Correspondence.)
Rexburg, Ida., Oct. 10.—The Democrats of Fremont county have united for good government. This week the Current Journal of Rexburg comes out as the official Democratic paper of Fremont county. This movement has been on foot for some time, but was realized only recently through the efforts of C. G. Killebrew. The paper has been leased and will probably be purchased as soon as a company can be organized for this purpose. The other local paper, the Rexburg Standard, will continue to look after the interests of the Republican party. The political battle here will be a hard fought one. This county has always been regarded as Republican, but the outlook shows up well for Democracy.

The first big rally of the campaign in the interest of the Republican party will be held next Wednesday night, when Congressman Burton L. French and D. C. Douglass will speak in Rexburg and discuss state and national issues. Both gentlemen are able speakers. Through some mistake Senator Heyburn did not appear in Rexburg to fill an engagement which was set for the 26th of September.

The contract has been let for the erection of a central tithing office for the three wards of Rexburg, and was commenced this week. Miller and Jensen of Salt Lake City have the contract. It will be a stone building two stories high and situated across the street from the registered-Jensen company store. The contract calls for the completion of the work on December 1.

The T. P. company of Idaho Falls completed their Rexburg sub-station this week. The heavy voltage will be reduced to 110 volts for the needs of city lighting.

An extra freight train has been put on this branch line to handle the heavy traffic. The Modern Woodmen of America will give a grand ball on Tuesday night.

A farewell social was given in the First ward on Thursday night in honor of Elder Hyrum Ricks, Jr., who leaves soon to visit his father in the home of his musical program was rendered and a neat little sum was raised for Elder Ricks.

The Ricks academy gave a ball on Friday. These dances are very popular and well conducted.

A WINNING BET.
(Philadelphia Inquirer.)
A witty individual one morning wagered that he would ask the same question of fifty different persons and receive the same answer from each. He went to first one and then to another, until he had reached the number of forty. And this he had done, he said, but he hesitated half audibly, to each:

"I say, have you heard that Smith has failed?"

"What Smith?" queried the whole fifty, one after another; and it was decided that the bet had been fairly won.

HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Nevada Men Are Slightly Injured and Other Car Collides With a Heifer.

C. C. Durango of Callente, a prospective automobile buyer, met with an accident in Liberty park last night which resulted in a bad shaking of himself and five other occupants of the car.

A. La Tomette of Milwaukee, who was riding in the back seat of the machine, was thrown out and received several cuts. None of the persons was seriously injured. The machine was damaged and had to be towed to the city.

Mr. Durango arrived in Salt Lake on Saturday with several missions in view. One was to buy an automobile. Sunday night he hired a car from Bottolli's garage, and a man to show him how to park he became excited and lost control of the machine, which was heading for a big tree on the roadside. The front axle of the automobile was broken and the front damaged. The engine was put out of commission.

La Tomette was thrown out of the car, but was not seriously injured. His injuries were attended by Dr. Niles. Both Mr. Durango and Mr. La Tomette are guests at the Kenyon.

A second automobile accident was reported yesterday. The car driven by E. W. Durango, containing his family and friends figured in the incident. While Mr. Durango was running along State street below the city hall, a yearling heifer in the care of a man on horseback ran almost directly in front of the car. Before Mr. Durango could stop, the car struck the animal, throwing it to the street, the wheels running over one of its legs.
